Headline:
Scattered showers today, locally heavy and perhaps thundery.

Today:
Scattered showers across the region throughout the morning and afternoon, with some bright spells in between. These showers will be heavy at times, carrying a risk of thunder and hail with them. Breezy. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Any residual showers will gradually clear, leaving the region largely dry with clear spells at times. A chance of the odd shower over Devon and Cornwall remains. Breezy. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
A dry start for most but the odd shower is possible in the east. An area of rain will move in from the west through the afternoon. Turning drier later. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Sunny spells on Wednesday with a chance of the odd shower. Possible rain in the west on Thursday but dry elsewhere. Largely dry on Friday. Temperatures gradually returning towards average.
